Fayetteville Public Library set to host Summer Reading Club Finale with Grammy-nominated children's musician Brady Rymer

Fayetteville Public Library will celebrate the end of their annual Summer Reading Club with a finale party this Saturday, August 5 from 10:30 - 11:45 a.m. at the library.

Grammy-nominated artist Brady Rymer will perform in the Randal Tyson Children's Library beginning at 10:30 a.m. Rymer's rootsy, accordion-laced pop and rock music regularly wins critical acclaim and national awards including three Children's GRAMMY nominations as well as numerous Parents' Choice Gold and NAPPA (National Parenting Publications) Gold Awards, and has garnered him a growing fan base of enthusiastic families.

"We're thrilled to welcome a talented artist like Brady Rymer to the Fayetteville Public Library," said Lolly Greenwood, Director of Youth and Outreach Services. "We know his uplifting songs and inspiring message will be a big hit with kids, and parents will love it, too."

In addition to music, the finale will include balloons for the kids and free lemonade from Raising Canes. Door prizes, including a Kindle Fire and Target gift cards, will also be distributed to select attendees.

Children's Summer Reading is sponsored by Friends of Fayetteville Public Library.
